WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.-Congress i iministrative branches of the ernment in Washington centred efforts upon the cost of living with new vigor to-day. While they were planning, discussing and price of meats and fresh reduce in Washington, under their wry noses, went up a notch.

immediate programme of Govrament price fixing on all necessities d life was proposed by Representative d life was proposed by Representative Haugen (lowa), who has prepared amendments to the Federal food control act providing that fair prices shall be proclaimed by the President and that all persons selling in excess of the Government price be heavily punished. Mr. Haugen is chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, and he prophesied that the committee would report to the House amendments with the price fixing provision.

While the committee had the amendments under consideration the House was discussing a further investigation by the Federal Trade Commission into shoes and leather. A favorable vote on the resolution for investigation is expected to-morrow.

Mayor Gillen of Newark, N. J., charged before the House Agriculture Committee that the "Big Five" packers controlled the New York fish market or further investigation is expected to-morrow.

Announcement was made that Atemey-General Palmer would confer with the Philadelphia fair price comultice to-morrow. The Attorney-General invited the conference of Governors meeting in Salt Lake City to send a committee to Washington for crence on fair price committee and other cooperative work between the State and Federal Governments.

Immediate Government price fixing of all commodities as the only effective way of stepping profiteering and reducthe cost of living is contained in adments to the Federal food control which Chairman Haugen intends to act which Chairman Haugen intends to push through the House this week.

Mr. Haugen's amendments, which were framed after cenferences with Department of Justice officials, provide for the proclamation of fair prices on all necessities by the President and give the Department of Justice direct powers to procedute any one charging in excess the figures. Power is given to limit profits storage charges, commissions and practices.

The license system, built up by the Food Administration during the war, will not be revived, on advice of Attenty-General Palmer, Mr. Haugen said, but instead the Department of Justice can bring immediate criminal procecutions against the violators.

"The whole intent and purpose of the The whole intent and purpose of the amendments is to get direct action parainst the profiteers and provide immediate lower living costs, which I do not believe are possible under a reviving of the loensing system." Mr. Haugen said. The Attorney-General is opposed to the inviving of the Food Administration leense system, believing it will not produce immediate results."

Under agreement with the Department indicate, however, that the orders for available by the army. In Washington the distribution of order blanks by carriers was stopped early in the day because only a small quantity of roast beef, beans and peas was on hand. There was not enough food available to fill the first rush of orders this morning.

Complete instructions on the handling of parcel post orders have been placed in the hands of every postmaster. Appeals have come from the West, however, to the Department to sak whether ranches can be supplied because of the restriction to individuals. In every case "If we can compel the large dealers a sell commodities at fair prices." Mr. Haugen said, "and the public is informed of these prices, the little follows cannot exact extortionate profits."

Pinal action on the plans will be taken

Final action on the plans will be taken by the House committee to-morrow, the chairman and, after Attorney-General Palmer or Assistant Attorney-General Palmer or Assistant Attorney-General Palmer conference.

The Haugen amendments extend the food control act no further than the Attorney-General proposed, inasmuch as they put all commodities under Governwith Federal agents there.

Country Is Roused.

Demand that Congress stop investi-gating and take real action to reduce the cost of living was made before the House Agriculture Committee to-day by Mayors of fifteen New Jersey cities. Backing this demand the Mayors sub-mitted a programme of drastic legisla-tion, the principal features of which were: "The country is tremendously interested in bringing down the high cost of living," said Mr. Mondell, "and it is the duty of Congress to help the Government departments in every possible way. There can be no objection to securing all the information possible in regard to the price of shoes and leather. One of the most trying of the increases in the cost of living has related to shoes and other footwar. These have shown a reastern of living has related to shoes and other footwear. These have shown a greater increase than almost all other commodities. The preliminary report of the Federal Trade Commission on the question would indicate there is no justification for the prices, and the Government ought to get busy and punish those who are responsible unlawfully for these increases in the cost all along the line."

Mr. Igo explained that the report of the commission on the shoe situation submitted recently was not up to date, 5. Means Committee to investigate the high prices, as they relate to taxes. In-formation I have received shows that high taxes on real estate owners and landlords particularly has been passed down to the people in the form of in-creased rents, and these men are making larger profits than ever."

The resolution caused a spirited debate on high prices in general.

Representative Good (Ia.) insisted the Government should place an embargo on the export of all commodities that are being sold at sky high prices. He pointed able figures are all the way from four to twelve times larger than in 1914.

"All that is necessary to bring down prices," he said, "is for the President to place an embargo on shoes, leather, meats, dairy products, corn, wheat and other products for a short time. As other products for a short time. As long as we are engaged in feeding the world and bidding against ourselves by leaning money to foreign nations to buy our products. I fail to see lower prices for our own people. Since March 1 we leaned $1,000,000,000 to foreign nations to buy our products. The result is they come in our markets and bid against the result of the country. It is a relieved these grades of fish were no longer in abundance or had moved away from the Jersey coast, and finally the supply was the people of this country. It is a policy that must soon be changed." Representative Madden (III) declared we could get no more. We traced the influence, we believe, to the big whole-sale fish combination in New York and found that even the State of New Jersey

the whole financial system of the country was on a paper basis, for which he placed the blame on the large issuance of Federal Reserve notes during the

"The purchasing power of the dollar have indulged in" declared Mayor Gillen at the outset of his testimony. "the only remedy that has thus far been set up for these exorbitant living costs is the very temporary one of the War Department selling its surplus foodstuffs to the public. When this surplus is disposed of, what then? Talk and investigations amount to nothing. They don't amount to a row of pins. Do something."

Mayor Slaydack of Verona blamed Samuel Gempers and organized labor for the present situation. He said: is now down to about 48 cents and the Federal Reserve notes are on the same basis as the greenbacks in the days after the civil war." he said. This change was vigorously denied by former Speaker Clark (Mo.) and Representative Wingo (Ark.) both "The paper dollar is just as good as the gold dollar in this country to-day," Mr. Clark said, "and that certainly was not the case of the civil war greenback."

"This nation and Spain are the countries that are on a gold basis," Mr.
Wingo said, "and there is no better commercial paper in the world than the Federal reserve note. It has back of it all the assets of the Federal reserve baks, a 40 per cent, gold reserve, and the pledge of the Government to rede them in gold.

"The Federal reserve banks have is sued two billion in notes, and I am just informed that they have more gold in their vaults than all the notes issued. The uneasiness of some people about Sales of army surplus by percel post through the post offices of the country were begun to-day. Reports coming to the Post Office Department indicate, however, that the orders for food are running far ahead of the supplies made serted that the "Sugar Trust" has been responsible for the high sugar prices. "The present sugar shortage is arti-fical," be declared, "and has been created by the American sugar trust price to the producer has been fixed at $5.82 a hundred, and there is no justi-fication for the price the people have been paying. "On the prices of clothing last Saturday, the manufacturers could pay 60 cents a pound for their cotton and still be making frofts. And there is no re-lation whatever between the prices of leather and hides and the price the pecple must pay for shoes. When the American people see the difference be-tween the price the producer receives and the price they must pay for articles.

In these three States supplies are to be distributed by the request of the War Department through the Governors of they will force prices down."

Large increases in clothing are imminent. Representative Siegel (N. Y.). said, because of the shortage of tailors and increased wages they are demand-ing. Restriction of immigration, he claimed, has decreased the number of id, has increased from $10.85 in 1917 to $22.62 in 1919. Allowing a 36 per cent. gross profit the average selling price now should be $29.40.

The U.S. Navy ordered these ash cans, but was unable to use them. We bought these cans and will sell them at about to-day's wholesale cost.

The body of the can is of 24 gauge galvanized iron, with concave bottom of 22 gauge galvanized iron, which makes the can doubly strong. The can is reinforced and has double seams making it water-tight, and therefore practical for use as a garbage can. There is an iron band around the top and two side handles of heavy gauge iron. The can is 24 inches high and 16 inches wide.

These cans are absolutely perfect and are not to be confused with seconds or "re-finished" rejects which are japanned to cover defects.
